At a mass meeting of the citizens of Lincoln county, in the court house in Stanford on last Monday afternoon, resolutions were passed which if put into effect will mean that Lincoln will have no more "blind tigers". Brother Tindler and County attorney J. E. Robinson made short talks that were loudly applauded by the crowded house of citizens.

Mr. Gott Sole Proprietor.

Mr. W. R. Gott has purchased the interest of his partner, J. T. Ferrell, in the soft drink business on First street. Mr. Gott will henceforth be sole proprietor. -Climax.

Lincoln's Birthday.

Last Monday, the 12th, was Lincoln's birthday, but it received but slight recognition in Lancaster, the banks and postoffice transacted business as usual, and but few people even stopped to think that it was the natal day of the martyred president.

Can't Do Without The Record.

"I can't do without the Record, which I read eagerly as soon as I get hold of it", says Mr. W. S. Miller of Knoxville Tenn. in remitting for his paper. Mr. Miller, together with son "Tommy" and Mr. W. H. Kephart compose a prosperous real estate and rental firm in Knoxville.

Will Continue For Another Four Years.

It will be gratifying news to the many friends of clever Jim Hatcher, who drives the Danville mail line, to know that he has been awarded the contract for another four years dating from the 1st day of next July. Jim by courteous treatment and politeness has won many friends both in Danville and Lancaster as well as along the route, all of whom will join in congratulating him on his good fortune.

Dr. Spitzer In Town.

Dr. Harry R. Spitzer of the Crab Orchard Sanatorium was in town Tuesday on business. He brought Mrs. G. M. Patterson down to spend the day with her husband. Mrs. Patterson, we are glad to say is improved in health. The Crab Orchard Sanatorium has been very successful since it started about two years ago. It is claimed that they can cure almost any case of rheumatism with their splendid baths. They use the same treatment as is used at Battle Creek, Mich and other successful Sanatoriums. It is in charge of Dr. Spitzer, who formerly was with the Battle Creek Sanatorium. He tells us that he has a good crowd up there now, and that they are all improving in health.

Met Cheerful Responses.

Our circular letter to the subscribers to the Record met with very cheerful responses from a great number of our patrons, much better than we really expected. To those who have so cheerfully responded we extend our sincere thanks; and to those who have not done so, we ask that you kindly remit to us at your earliest convenience. To all we say that the subscription lists of a weekly newspaper are prone to error as the books of any other class of business, perhaps a little more so, however, we are always glad to have our attention called to any mistakes and will cheerfully remedy and correct them, and we hope that everyone will feel that if their statement is not correct that it is an error and one that will be corrected, and that you will continue to entertain the Record as a weekly visitor.

Cattle Break Through Ice And Drown.

On last Saturday on the farm of Mr. A. F. Sanders near "Poundtown" in the lower end of the county, sixteen cattle went through the ice on a pond where they were being watered and were drowned. The cattle would weigh from 600 to 700 pounds and were the property of Mr. Morris Farris of Danville, Mr. Sanders having taken them to feed. The cattle had but recently been brought to the farm of Mr. Sanders, the hands had given them fodder, and after having cut several holes in the ice around the edges of the pond to enable them to get water, left them when they had occasion to look after the cattle again they missed a number of them and on search found them in the pond drowned. It is supposed that the cattle in attempting to get water crowded each other into the ice and their aggregate weight broke the ice and they became stuck in the mulch the bottom of the pond perished.

Jack Denny Burns To Death.

Jack Denny, a well known colored farmer who lives near old Antioch on the Buckeye pike, received burns at his home Friday night which resulted in his death about nine o'clock Saturday morning.

It seems that Jack had been to Danville with a load of tobacco and returning after dark, cold and tired he lay down before a hot fire to get warm, drowsiness overcame him and coals from the fire are supposed to have dropped onto and ignited his clothing, and so deep was his slumber the fire failed to awaken him until he was severely burned. Dr. Johnson was summoned but was unable to render assistance further than to alleviate his suffering to some extent and about nine o'clock Saturday morning he died from his injuries.

Jack Denny was one of the best known and most highly respected colored citizens of the county; far above the average in intelligence, he had many friends among the white as well as his own race.

The Malady Among Kentucky Horses.

Some mysterious disease has wrought great havoc among the horses of Kentucky entailing thousands of dollars in losses. Garrard county has not escaped the scourge and many losses have occurred throughout the county. As yet no definite cause or remedy has been discovered for the disease, and a horse once stricken with the malady is considered as good as dead. The most prevalent theory is that the disease arises from eating rotten or decaying corn, of which there is a vast amount this winter. However, a great many of the veterinarians, among whom is Dr. Pontius of this city, are not inclined to this theory, the latter being inclined to the belief that the disease is caused from a germ which is to be found, possibly in the corn, but not necessarily, but more particularly in rank hay and fodder, the eating of which results in an ulceration of the liver, stomach intestines and frequently the brain. Dr. Purdy of Shelbyville is the only veterinarian who as yet has had the temerity to come out boldly and advance a definite theory as to the origin; he asserts that blackbirds contract the germ which is sucked in by mosquitoes which either bite the animal or contaminate their food. If his theory be correct, a remedy will doubtless be found which will check, and ultimately completely eradicate the disease, and when this time comes, Dr. Purdy, or whoever may discover the cause and remedy for the evil will become, not only famous on his own account, but will prove a great blessing to the Kentucky farmers who have already suffered such a heavy monetary loss from the scourge among the equines of the state.

The 1912 Cincinnati Automobile Show.

Lancaster automobilists who fail to attend the Cincinnati Automobile Show which will be held at Music Hall February 19-24, will miss a rare treat. Every imaginable kind of auto vehicle will be on exhibition at this show, and a visit will repay you for your trouble. The people in charge of the exhibition have made extensive preparations for the entertainment of the out of town guests who will attend.

Cured His Cold.

Hon. Jas. I Hamilton was troubled with a severe cold the first part of the week, however he was cured on Monday night after taking cough syrup, castor oil, lemon stew, cough drops; having a hot bath and his throat rubbed with liniment and a few more minor treatments. He says that he will never have another cold as long as he lives, and that Mrs. Hamilton can think of more remedies for a cold than any one that he has ever seen.

Enjoying Life In Florida.

The Record's good friend Mr. Jones L. Anderson is certainly having a good time in Florida while his Kentucky friends are shivering during zero weather. A letter from him at St. Cloud dated on the 8th inst tells of his being out fishing in his shirt sleeves. Miss Fannie Carpenter of Preachersville who is visiting relatives at St. Cloud, accompanied Mr. Anderson on one of his fishing excursions and succeeded in landing a 23 pound cat fish.

Most Severe In Years.

The average temperature during the month of January was 24 degrees, and this record has been kept up so far this month, and at least a dozen times during the present year has the mercury fallen to the zero mark, going on down as far as 10 degrees below; the ground has scarcely been free from snow during the year: large ponds have been frozen since the first of the year, the ice in some cases reaching a thickness of more than a foot.

Duty Of Patrons.

In these days of snow and sleet the rural mail carriers have a hard time and the government expects the patrons to do their part. "All obstructions are to be removed necessary to facilitate the service. Anything which hinders convenient access to the mail box is an obstruction. After a fall of three or four inches or more of snow the Government expects the patrons to immediately clear a roadway to and from the mail boxes before the time for service," says the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General. -EX.

A Good and Able Judge.

Judge C. A. Hardin is delightful, and we might say surprising, his many friends and well-wishers here by the ease and ability with which he is dispatching business. Having had most of his experience in the criminal branch of the law it was supposed he would be a little awkward when it came to common law and equity, but he seems at home in all branches and is presiding and deciding like a veteran. We do not give the popular Judge this little "boost" from any but a desire to "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," for he certainly deserves and merits the high encomiums he is receiving elsewhere as well as here at home - Harrodsburg Leader.

Well Known Colored Citizen Dead.

Uncle John Jennings, a well known colored citizen, and one of the most highly respected of his race in Lancaster, died at his home near the depot Saturday morning and his remains were placed at rest in the Lancaster cemetery Sunday afternoon. "Uncle John", as he was well known to everyone, was for many years the grave digger at the Lancaster cemetery, but for many years he has been a hopeless invalid, and has been cared for by the government, he having served in the civil war, and was granted a pension of $30. per month. He was past eighty years of age. He owned a good home which he willed to Maggie Burdett, who has lived with and cared for him since the death of his wife, which occurred several years ago.

Kills Bald Eagle.

Mr. John Simpson of Judson this county brought to the Record office last week a bald eagle which he had killed on Feb 7th, which weighed 14 pounds and measured 7 1/2 feet from tip to tip, his feet had an expansion of six inches, the claws measuring 2 1/2 inches. The bird after being brought to the ground by a shot, gamely fought a dog which rushed at it and was finally killed by Mr. Simpson. This is the exact species of eagle which was chosen as the emblem of the United States being distinguished by a white neck and head which gives it the appearance of being bald, hence the name "bald eagle". This bird which as the national emblem is supposed to represent freedom, however it does not live up to what it is supposed to personify, getting its livelihood from robbing the osprey or fish hawk of its catch, but when driven to extremities by hunger will invade a farmyard, and sometimes a flock of sheep. The bald eagle is seldom seen in these parts, being commonly found along lakes and bays and the larger water courses, making its homes in the cliffs and caverns.

they were put out of business, a few determined citizens assisted the equally determined officers, and the trick was quickly and efficiently turned, and constant vigilance on the part of the officers has kept the traffic under subjugation since.

Now seems a most auspicious time for a general cleaning up in Stanford and Lincoln county, now while they have the co-operation and assistance of the federal authorities, if the tigers really do exist, and the local authorities will get busy and take stringent measures for their breaking up, and give those who are connected with them to understand that they will not be tolerated in the future, the evil, if it exists, will be permanently removed, and you will be worried no more with the cry that "open saloons are better than open tigers".

Helps Wilson.

The New York Independent under the head of "The Exit of Marse Henry" has the following to say:—

"Colonel Watterson has retreated into the wilds of Florida, and it is well he had said enough. At last the whole story is out which he started and on which he should have held his peace. After the now famous interview which resulted in the withdrawal of Woodrow Wilson's name from the columns of Harper's Weekly Colonel Harvey said nothing; Mr. Wilson said nothing; but Marse Henry charged the Democratic candidate with base ingratitude, and told part of the tale. Then others told or guessed, more, and he told more; and at last he declared that Mr. Wilson had groveled and humiliated himself before Colonel Harvey in his desire to atone for his coldness. Then this correspondence had to be given to the public. We find in it simply that Mr. Wilson learned that he had grieved his friend, and he made as handsome an apology as one could make, and it was most courteously accepted. Not a word was said by either of them that a gentleman might not properly say. But the correspondence, and most of the story of this private interview, was such as should not have been forced upon the public. It was all confidential; but Colonel Watterson's sense of honor did not forbid him to give it to the press. It threatened at first to hurt Mr. Wilson as the Democratic candidate, but it has probably not hurt him a particle, and the boomerang has come back to him that threw it. In the words of the Elizabethan poet who taught:

"The Grace's grace, and made the virtues thought.
More virtuous than before,"
We repeat a general human conviction: "Unworthily he to have a worthy place. That cannot hold his peace and blabbing tongue."

Before the Record again goes to press will have elapsed the 22nd, day of February, the natal day of the greatest of all American citizens, George Washington, universally admitted to be the greatest of American citizens, and one of the noblest public characters the world ever knew. He gave the fullness of a brilliant mind and a hardy manhood that the country he loved might be disenthralled of the British yoke, and but for his wise guidance and splendid leadership, this country might have for years remained a province of Great Britain. It is then not to be wondered at that after one hundred and twenty years his memory is revered and his birthday observed.

Of all the holidays declared by the U. S. government, the birthday of George Washington should take precedence, for it was he who made it possible for us to have a government, who participated in the formation of the government, who gave the very best that was in him in order that this might be a free and untrammelled country, might be self governed and free from the influence and governing power of any other nation. It is therefore right that after the lapse of all these years that we should do honor to his memory, should set aside and commemorate his natal day.

Let us then individually and as a nation continue to do honor to the memory of so great a man, let us teach our children to honor his memory, so that when we have put aside earthly cares, they may in their turn continue to do honor to and perpetuate the memory of he who gave and did so much for his country and his people.

Senator Bradley on Saturday made known the names of the "Kentucky Steering Committee", who are to have the duties of endeavoring to "steer" Kentucky's 26 votes for the President in the coming Republican convention. The eighth district is to be represented on that committee by Messrs C. C. Wallace of Richmond, W. W. Wiseman of Danville and W. T. West and Judge L. W. Walker of this place, and with this coterie of gentlemen at the helm, it is safe to say that this district will surely instruct her delegates for Taft.

Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, he of the gun shoe fame, is in Washington, presumably seeking a foreign appointment. He is pursuing the same tactics as were his wont when he was a political power in Kentucky, conducting a still hunt.

Wife Got Tip Top Advice.

"My wife wanted me to take our boy to the doctor to cure an ugly boil," writes Dr. Frankel, of Stroud, Okla. "I said put Bucklen's Arnica Salve on it." She did so, and it cured the boil in a short time." Quickest healer of Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Corns, Bruises, Sprains, Swellings. Best Pile cure on earth. Try it. Only 25c at R. E. Roberts & Son.

We don't exhaust our energy, but just keep pushing for all we can get. Madison Tobacco Warehouse Company near L. & A. Depot Richmond, Ky.

Mr. Lee Perkins, who formerly lived at this place and worked the insurance business, died at the home of his father in Panama, Ky on last Saturday morning, of tuberculosis. His many friends at this place will be sorry to hear of his death. He was buried in the Richmond Cemetery.

Farmers Union Speaking.

Mr. W. M. Martin, asst. State organizer of the Farmers Union will speak at the court house in Lancaster at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, Feb. 17th. All persons interested are cordially invited to hear him as he is a good speaker and will interest you. This organization has grown considerably in this county in the past year until to-day there are 25 local lodges in the county, and they operate a general store in this city which is in a thriving condition.

Merits Recognized.

Mr. H. Rowan Sautley, son of the late Judge M. C. Sanfley, who is connected with the Interior Journal at Stanford, an who, incidentally is a wheel-horse in democratic politics in Lincoln county, has been appointed by Gov. McCreary as one of the secretaries to the State Board of Equalization. Aside from his richly deserving the position to which he has been appointed, Rowan is splendidly qualified to perform the duties required of him. The position will occupy him one hundred days of each year for four years and the remuneration is $5. per day. We congratulate the gentleman on his obtaining such a good berth.

Don't Be Too Hasty.

Following every cold period experienced in this country when wheat emerges looking the worse for the weather, the cry goes up that "the wheat crop is killed." This cry is being raised now as to the late sown wheat. Conservative farmers do not act too hastily in the matter of plowing up a wheat crop that has already cost them considerable money, for they argue that the wheat which sometimes looks the worst in the winter, often turns out the most bushels to the acre at harvest time. Better wait and see what a few warm spring days will do for it before you go to ploughing up for seed in something else.

Mr. Alex. Walker Buys Farm.

A deal involving nearly $50,000 was consummated on Monday when Mr. Alex Walker of the Lancaster Mill & Electric Light Co. purchased of Mr. Robert E. Thompson his farm of 436 at $107.50 per acre. The farm is situated on the Crab Orchard pike about three miles from Lancaster and lies between the pike and the railroad, and is one of the best, probably the best of its size, farms in Garrard county. It is what is known as the "Dave Thompson" farm, having been the property of the late David Thompson, and at his death was divided between his two sons, Robert and Booth Thompson, the former afterward buying his brothers interest. Mr. Walker will not move to the farm, but will remain in Lancaster.

Jack Adams Announces For Re-election.

In this issue of the Record will be found the announcement of Mr. Jack Adams as a candidate for the nomination for jailer of Garrard county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. There is perhaps not a more popular gentleman in Garrard county than Jack Adams, and he has heretofore demonstrated the fact that he is some runner when it comes to a political race. He is an upright and honorable citizen a clever gentleman and has made an efficient officer since he has held the office to which he now asks a second term, and if the democracy of Garrard county deem it advisable to again honor him, we have no doubt but that he will prove equally as efficient in the future as he has in the past.

Mrs. Wiley Lee Morgan.

In a former issue, we spoke of the death of Mrs. Wiley Lee Morgan since that time a Knoxville daily paper has been sent us containing an account of her death. The article is about a column and a half long and we are sorry that lack of space will not permit us to copy the article in full. Mrs. Morgan was a popular woman and a member of a great many clubs in Knoxville and had but recently been made President of the woman's board of the Knoxville General Hospital. A picture of this smart and beautiful woman appeared in the Knoxville paper and the following shows how the article started: "Fourteen years ago there came to Knoxville a radiant bride and queenly woman. Today in a desolate home the husband sits in the shadow of an irreparable sorrow. Yesterday afternoon, just before 6 o'clock, at her home, 621 Morgan street, the gentle spirit of the wife of the managing editor of The Sentinel took its flight into the great beyond. Suddenly and untimely the end came. As the devoted husband was just returning to her from his desk and duties, death from heart failure closed the mortal life of her who through the years had been his help and inspiration.

Born Elizabeth Burdette Elkin, Mrs. Wiley Lee Morgan first saw the light of day July 23, 1874, in the bluegrass region of Kentucky, at Lancaster in Garrard county. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Elkin, no longer living. In August, 1911, the mother passed away in Knoxville, in her daughter's home. Of that family survive a sister, Mrs. B. S. Mattingly, and two brothers, Zack and J. Embury Elkin, residents of Louisville.

Gets Position In Mail Service.

Charley Zanone who recently took the civil service examination for a position in the railway mail service, has been assigned to duty as a mail weigher on the trains running between Stanford and Richmond, he began his duties on the 15th. He was summoned to Cincinnati where he was instructed in his duties.

Mens Religion And Forward Movement.

The mens forward movement was organized Wednesday afternoon. All the Pastors of the Lancaster Churches were present and participated and members of the various committees were appointed. Advice will be awaited from the State Central Committee at Louisville and as soon as the dates are known they will be announced and definite action will be taken to have a grand and good meeting.

Mr. Hagan Purchased Interest of Partners.

Mr. T. S. Hagan has purchased the interest of his partners, Messrs. Burnside & Robinson, in the Madison Milling Co., and has assumed control. He will be assisted by his brother, Mr. John J. Hagan, of Corbin. Mr. Robinson had to return to his old home in Garrard county to settle the estate of his father who died recently, and being unable to give his time and attention to the business here, decided to close out to Mr. Hagan. Mr. Burnside will continue with Mr. W. W. Broadus in the coal business in this city. —Climax.

St. Valentine's Day.

Wednesday was St. Valentine's day, and from the number of "comics" with which the local postoffice was deluged we think all the young folks expressed their opinion of each other and a good many of the grown ups by means of comic valentines. The exchange of valentines is an ancient custom originating with the Romans, it was the custom of the sexes among these people to choose their partners by lot upon a certain day, and as this day coincided with the celebration of the feast of St. Valentine, it became to be known as St. Valentine's Day.

LIBRARY DINING ROOM PARLOR BED ROOM

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The Rayo Lamp is the best and most serviceable lamp you can find for any part of your home.

It is in use in millions of families. Its strong white light has made it famous. And it never flickers.

In the dining room or the parlor the Rayo gives just the light that is most effective. It is a becoming lamp—in itself and to you. Just the lamp, too, for bedroom or library, where a clear, steady light is needed.

The Rayo is made of solid brass, nickel plated; also in numerous other styles and finishes. Easily lighted without removing shade or chimney; easy to clean and rewick. Ask your dealer to show you his line of Rayo lamps; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated).

Germs Spread in Skin

Acne, eczema, and other skin troubles are caused by germs that work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed, they multiply, growing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes the awful itching and what causes a mere rash to grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances. Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema. A 25c bottle will prove this to you.
